How to wear

Step 1

1. Section off a portion of your hair that is about 1/2-inch wide. The first section should be taken from the hair closest to one of your ears.

Step 2

2. Pull one small piece from the front of the first section of hair you are working with.

Step 3

3. Place the middle of one of the small bunches of hair extension against your head, in front of the section of hair being worked with.

Step 4

4. Begin braiding the three pieces of hair. Braid the extension piece in with the piece of your natural hair that you separated.

Step 5

5. Pull one section of extension out of the braid, pulling it out and away from the line of the braid.

Step 6

6. Do one more rotation of braid before adding in another piece of extension.

Step 7

7. Add another section of extension into your hair.

Step 8

8. Continue this process until the braid has reached your desired length, adding an extension in one cycle, taking a piece out in the next, doing another regular cycle, and then adding the next piece of extension in the next.

Step 9

9. Repeat this process with small sections of hair until the entire head has been covered with tree braids.
